MAN WEEPS WHEN FILLY LOSES RACE

By J. W. MARCHBANK

When an exalted ego and sport clash, sport is likely to come out second best. It was found out long ago that the race track is no place for the development of power of the selfish kind at the cost of the racing. We do not have to go very far to cite examples of swollen reputations that did the sport nothing but harm. Chicago had some in the past, but California suffered likewise at different times.

Emphasis on the racing itself is my ideal and I have been discussing it for a long period, I hope with some tangible result. But day after day we see people of misguided notions trying to attract attention to themselves without the least regard to the welfare of the sport. They're thinking of the future all right, but what future? That of themselves, using whatever track that is harboring them as a step in going on to what they consider better things because more lucrative.

John L. Hervey wrote, not long ago, in one of his illuminating articles on the turf that one of his friends wept when Black Helen, the great filly of my friend Colonel Bradley, was beaten in the Arlington Classic. Commenting on the emotion of the racegoer, Hervey said:

"Amid the engulfing waves of commercialism and sordidness that often seem on the point of submerging the greatest sport in the world, it is grateful to encounter such an expression of sentiment—in the best sense of the word—inspired by such an object."

Why don't people go into trade if they are obsessed with the idea of big dividends? Why pollute such a thing as racing with their presence? First of all comes the high class entertainment of the racegoing public, and, following closely on that, liberal treatment of the horsemen. Whenever possible give the owners of the horses better prizes, thus enabling them to breed or buy horses of a higher caliber.

The sport in this district is going on to wonderful accomplishments if—and this is a pretty big "if"—selfishness on the part of people connected with it is not allowed to get the upper hand. All of us should make a strenuous attempt to keep in mind at all times that racing is a sport, not a business.

EFFORTS OF SUPERVISOR AL WITT TO BRING ABOUT ORDER OUT OF CHAOS ARE REWARDED—MARSHALL IN

First Township Supervisor Reveals That Scott Attorneys Hold Assignments For Back Salary Of Resigning Acting Engineer—Wants Workers Repaid

The dove of peace flew over the San Mateo County court house today as the county engineer controversy died a bitter and reluctant death with the resignation this week of Acting Engineer Carl Reed Scott, stormy center and foe of the administration.

And with Scott's resignation victory rewarded the efforts of Supervisor Al Witt, leader of the majority faction of the Board of Supervisors and the man who fought a tireless campaign to a successful conclusion for the removal of the erstwhile engineer from office.

The Supervisorial Board, Monday of this week, accepted Scott's resignation with a sigh of relief and voted unanimously for the appointment of Urban S. Marshall, nationally known engineer, as a successor.

Marshall told board members he had pledged himself to an economical administration of the engineer's office and that he would prove by his efforts that he held the taxpayer's interests at heart.

He immediately plunged into the business of properly balancing the man power of the office which he had previously held was over-manned.

On recommendation of the grand jury the board repealed the recently adopted ordinance creating the coordinator post.

In a statement to the public, Supervisor Witt explained that though he had championed the ordinance in the past he was voting for its repeal now because Scott had resigned.

"I previously made the promise that I would vote for the repeal of the ordinance if and when we could obtain a competent engineer to handle unemployment projects.

"We have such an engineer now in Mr. Marshall."

Witt also called attention to the fact that Scott's attorney's, Fred Comba and Ernest Wilson, had on file assignments against Scott's back salary for more than $2400.

"Perhaps Mr. Scott was not all to blame for his stubborn fight against removal which disrupted the county for six months," said Witt.

"His attorneys have assignments against his back salary. That's an encouraging reason for any attorney to defend a client for "nothing" over a six month's period."

Witt then demanded that the grand jury investigate this point of the recent controversy and that the inquisitorial body force return of money to those county employes who assertedly made donations to Scott's sustenance fight for his back salary.

The board voted to pay Scott's salary for the past six months, the same having been held up by litigation and amounted to more than $2400.

LAUREL-HARDY FEATURE IS RIOT OF LAUGHTER

Wearing Kilts, They Prove Funnier Than Ever in "Bonnie Scotland" at Local Theater

The team of Laurel and Hardy, deservedly a necessary institution in the entertainment world, tops any past performance with their "reunion" feature comedy. "Bonnie Scotland," which will be seen at the Daly City Theater, Sunday and Monday, November 10 and 11. The deluge of protesting mail which poured in on the producer, Hal Roach, when it became known that Laurel and Hardy planned to part several months ago, is understandable, for this duo has few rivals in universal popularity.

meek friend, "Stanley McLaurel," to Scotland to claim his share of the magnificent estates of a deceased uncle. To their chagrin and discomfort, the uncle has bequeathed to Stan only some valueless heirlooms. The bulk of the estate has been willed to Lorna McLaurel, the deceased relative's grand daughter, played by June Lang.

The love of Lorna and Alan Douglas, a struggling young barrister portrayed by William Janney, provides a romantic thread throughout the picture. From a hilarious mix-up, the pair of fun makers emerge to find themselves enlisted in the Scotch Highlanders and assigned to duty in India. Attired in kilts, the two comedians go through hazardous and breathless experiences as "laddies from hell." The result is a picture packed with well-time laughs.

On the same program, "Storm Over the Andes," with Jack Holt and Mona Barrie.

EVEN ENEMIES HAVE TO PRAISE PRESIDENT

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

In the darkest of places light sometimes seeps through. So, recently I was not altogether surprised to find alongside a wrong-slanted editorial on the chief executive of the country in an anti-Roosevelt newspaper of San Francisco, an article by a special writer pointing out good work accomplished by the man unjustly accused in the editorial of having surrendered to an alien bunch of radicals. In his hysterical attemp to please his employer, the editor tossed all dignity to the winds, even though he was initing an outburst about the nation's leader.

The special writer declared that manipulation in any form, wash sales, pegging of prices, pools, etc., are outlawed under the securities legislation, which stands a bright star of the New Deal. No undignified "Raw Deal" there; admission is frankly made President Roosevelt did a good thing and he is given commendation for it.

The Securities and Exchange Commission has publicly accused a speculator, a big frog in the Wall street puddle, of having manipulated a listed stock. Charges were made privately that the stock exchanges and the SEC blinked at malpractices definitely and specifically violations of the law the President requested Congress to make. The SEC has answered the charges by instituting proceedings against the speculator.

The work being done by the SEC is vital to the welfare of the country; in fact, predictions are freely made that unless manipulation is eradicated a repetition of 1929's disaster-breeding price pyramid in the market is inevitable.

The day of miracles seems to have returned in a sense due principally to a realization by even the advocates of a tooth and claw philosophy that private activities with a public angle must be regulated. At the recent convention of the Investment Bankers Association at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, the men of finance did an about-face on the matter of regulation. Henceforth the members of the association, for a long time the bitterest of opponents of regulation, will favor keeping things in order by the federal government.

Even if the act under which regulation is practical should be found unconstitutional, the I. B. A. hopes for other provisions in the rational laws for continuance of regulation within legal limits. Specifically, the association wants simplification of capital structures speeded.

In view of the coming over to the side of reasonable conduct by hard-boiled citizens and many other changes to the good, it is hard to see how the people can listen with any equanimity to attacks on the President by a group that has lost privileges it should never have enjoyed.

* * *

Not so long ago a financial writer of national reputation gave as his opinion that charging all the traffic will bear is a false tenet if the best interests of one's country are taken into consideration. Some of his readers, apparently of the old school, deluged him with letters protesting that sellers are entitled to charge the very highest prices they can obtain regardless of the likelihood of buyers later having occasion to rue their purchases.

That writer is wavering about giving his allegiance to any philosophy taking into account what might be called the humanitarian equation or still holding to the business—is business motto:

"Let the buyer beware."

That's mainly on account of the protests of financiers he associates with. On the other hand he still says to investment bankers and stock brokers:

"Let the seller beware."

The essential content of laws passed since Roosevelt has been in office may be stated to be along the line of giving backbone to the men who want to do the fair thing as against those invariably inclined to do the selfish thing destructive to the public weal.

JOHN FAHEY IS APPOINTED FOR DISTRICT HEAD

John J. Fahey. Daly City councilman, was named foreman of Road Maintenance District No. 1 this week by County Engineer U. S. Marshall.

One of Marshall's first acts as engineer was to divide the county into three such maintenance districts.

Fahey was placed in charge of the first district; William Brown in charge of the second, and Henry Daneri is in charge of the third district.

Marshall eliminated the costly positions of superintendent of roads and assistant superintendent of roads, which were held respectively by Richard Amick and Ernest Hoffman. Their elimination will save the county $5000 annually, it is said.

'BINGO' OPERATORS TAKE A RUNOUT

When Cases Are Called For Trial Only One of Four Defendants Appear

When the cases of Ike A. Bernstein, A. H. Allan, John Hancock and Henry Weinberg, charged with violation of the gambling laws under Section 330 of the Penal Code, were called before Judge Clay, in Daly City Justice Court, only one defendant appeared for trial.

The charges grew out of conducting of a "Bingo" establishment in Bayshore, which is now closed by order of the county authorities.

On a complaint signed by Sheriff James J. McGrath the quartet were charged with violation of this section for conducting a game played by any dice, cards or other device for money or other evidence of value. This was only one of six counts in the complaint.

The former plea of the defendants of "not guilty" was on file. Attorney for the defense asked that he be allowed to withdraw that plea on behalf of his clients and substitute a plea of guilty on the second count only, that in violation of the section first mentioned. This plea was offered provided the other five counts were dismissed.

On agreement of the district attorney to such procedure, Judge Clay made such an order.

This plea of "guilty" undoubtedly establishes the game of "Bingo" as in the class of games prohibited by statute and should set at rest for all time that "Bingo" establishments can be opened in Daly City or elsewhere.

Let us hope that this will end the intolerable efforts to foist this "small fry" game on the citizens of this community.

ARMISTICE DAY HANDICAP LAST OF FALL MEET

Expect Big Holiday Crowd To Attend Final Day Of Racing At Tanforan

Tanforan brings its fall Meeting, the most successful in the history o the famous San Bruno oval. to a close Monday, Armistice Day, with a gala program. The closing events begin Saturday with an attractive card. The plant will be closed Sunday, but will offer its final feature Monday, when a large holiday throng is expected for the farewell.

In addition to high class Saturday races, the stake event at Tanforan tomorrow will be the San Francisco Handicap for all ages over the six-furlong course for a purse of $2500 added. This contest will bring to the post the best at the track, many of which have been seen from week to week in the Saturday stake events.

Monday will be "get-away" day at San Bruno, with a program of eight races, including the final stake race of the meeting. Holiday celebrants will decend on the track for the Armistice Day Handicap, a stake for three-year-olds and upward over the distance route of a mile and a sixteenth. Monday in addition to the Armistice Day Handicap, there will be the Au Revoir, which marks the close of the meeting, conducted under the supervision of J. W. Marchbank, directing owner.

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW

Boys and girls, you have only one week left in which to finish your stories. The weather is cold and snappy and our thoughts are turning Christmassy. In fact, we can almost hear the sleigh bells jingle.

Some of the compositions are finished and are now on file, awaiting yours. The judges have been selected and we are all expectant; eager to learn the names of the winners. The contest closes next Friday, the fifteenth. We hope that The Record will receive the decision of the judges in time for publication on Friday of next week, November 22.

The editor purposely closed the contest several weeks before Christmas so that the time spent on your stories would not interfere with your studies preparatory to final examinations.

Happiness and success to you all.

GREAT TIME HAD BY OUR CHILDREN

The Hallowe'en Festival for Daly City children, given by the Daly City Post No. 410, American Legion, and the Daly City Merchants Association was a most successful affair.

The parade of several hundred children started on time and was very orderly. Never were there so many goblins, witches, fairies, clowns and other varieties of the "spook family" gathered together at one meeting. The judges had considerable difficulty in picking the winners.

The American Legion wishes to thank the Daly City Merchants for their generosity and co-operation in helping make this such a great success. It has been decided to make this an annual event.

The joint committee of the Legion and the Merchants Association will meet each month on the first Wednesday evening at Daly City Hall as a standing body throughout the year. The next event discussed at Wednesday evening's meeting is a monster Fourth of July celebration by these two organizations for the benefit of the citizens of our community.

GAME SPRINTER GIVES THRILLS TO RACE FANS

Always Ready To Give a Battle Coming Down the Stretch

Although he isn't a stake star or he won't go down in racing's hall of fame, Victor, a 6-year-old grey gelding by Bistouri-Herod's Pride is one of the most remarkable horses in training at Tanforan. He's a real thoroughbred bulldog—with enough gameness in his makeup to suffice for several racers. For Victor actually hurls himself at the finish line—seems to leap forward with one final lunge right at the wire. And he always comes again if he's headed in the final sixteenth.

He has started four times at the meeting and has three seconds and one victory to his credit. But when Victor is in a race, the fans are always assured of a stretch thrill for he comese down charging at the end, trying to make gameness overcome the handicap of his weak underpinning.

Another thing about Victor is that he doesn't move over and giive the right of way to any horse. He doesn't swerve but he does edge over perceptible and never gives a rival the best of it.

THE PUBLIC VOICE

327 Crocker ave., Daly City, Calif.
October 29, 1935.

Editor, Daly City Record,
Daly City, California.

Dear Sir:

I have submitted my views to the City Council in about the following terms. If you care to use it, as publicity on the Civic improvements question, you have my permission to do so.

"Commenting on your recent, undated, request for ideas and suggestions concerning civic improvements I wish to respectfully advise that I voted against the bond issue for several reasons but in particular, because there was no assurance that the aid of the National Government would be given. In this event it was proposed, if the aid was not given if I remember correctly, to spend the money raised by the special taxation without program or specific purpose.

Personally, I would be very happy to contribute in taxes for civic improvements of merit but those proposed seemed to me to lack sincerity of purpose, not designed for permanent good to our citizens as a body.

My personal ideas may not reflect the views of your Planning Committee or the citizens en-masse, but I wish to air them for what they may be worth, briefly as follows:

1st. It would be interesting to know whether our present library is inadequate; do we lack shelf room for books, for reference readers or for any reason? Would a new concrete library bring to us a greater quantity and variety of books, if so from what fund would they be purchased? Would the number of hours for the library to be opened be increased?

2d. The so-called park seems to me to be a name only, rather a misnomer. In my fifteen years residence in Daly City I have not known it to be used, in the true sense as a pubilc park. There is nothing attractive there to create a desire for citizens and—or children to congregate there, and furthermore I cannot understand how any amount of money spent on that hole in the ground could ever make it attractive. It seems to me to have been a folly from the beginniing and I would want to be very sure my tax money would be quite willing to pay my poor investment.

3d. Vista Grande school house is a fire trap of the worst kind and unfit for an assembly hall. If it were to be demolished and a creditable safe building erected in its place, I would be uite willing to pay my share.

4th. City Hall. What I have said about Vista Grande school goes double here. Let us tear down the old outmoded frame building and spend our money sensibly. We should have a creditable jail in the City Hall of course.

5th. Do we not over-emphasize the needs of a Fire Department? In my many years of residence I do not recall more than two or three fire losses greater than $3,000 each. I venture to say our fire fighting equipment and upkeep has cost the people of Daly City many times more money than Fire Insurance Companies have paid for losses. We have no great conflagration hazards, other than some of the frame eyesores atop the hill. However the fire houses we have are no credit to the city, being merely shacks. They should be demolished and substantial fire resisting houses provided instead. I would gladly subscriibe to surh program but would objert to spending more money on additions to such as we now have, at least those I have seen.

6th. Extension of water mains and fire alarm system to the southern section of the city, to my mind, is the only one of the numerous items that has real merit and I am for it.

In conclusion I might say that it would seem illogical to propose improvements in the same haphazard fashion as was recently done. We should have definite plans for each case, prepared by experts even though we would have to hire their services. Then put the proposals up to the voters each one singly, giving the full cost and taxation both ways, namely, with and without National Government aid.

Very sincerely,
J. F. RAWIE.

FLASHY FIELD OF JUVENILES IN NEXT HANDICAP

Mayor Angelo J. Rossi has been invited to attend and a special box will be decorated for his party of San Francisco civic officials.

The San Francisco Handicap is rich in tradition and has always provided a stirring page in California turf history—even back in the Gay Nineties and early 1900's when the San Francisco and Burns Handicaps, each with a $10,000 added value, were run on the same day, the San Francisco at Tanforan and the Burns at Emeryville.

Among the stunning racers being "honed up" for the encounter include French Princess, Band Wagon, Lady Bowman, Maid of Perth, Lois Pan, Rushing By, Calaveras, Margaret O'Neil, Try Some, St. Stephens, Sea Cliff, Linden Tree, Instigator, High Tension, Bamboula, Bonny Grafton, Easy Sailing, Arson, Distribute and Risky Miss.

Navajo Brave May Be Wed to Several Sisters

It is not unusual for a Navajo brave to be married to several sisters of the same family at the same time, according to Wick Miller, an authority on Indian arts and customs.

"That state of affairs is not objectionable to the Navajos," he said. "But they are extremely careful not to marry within their own clan. All in all, I would say their standards are higher than ours, and I believe they live up to their ideals, as a whole," better than white people. As the Navajos lead a wandering existence, their dwellings are emporary shelters. Wherever the Navajo is, he must be busy. Everybody has plenty to do. And everybody is happy.

Her cheek moved, touching his, until their lips came together in the gentle beginning of belief; and then the soft, near shadow of her husky whisper said, "Poor, dear darling—they haven't even let you"—she paused for the shadow of her soft chuckle too—"let you shave."

The exultance of laughter that ran from Hal's swelling lungs was a month of sunny convalescence crowded in one liquid moment; and he let her precious body free then, long enough to take away the hat that kept her hair from shining over this improbable return of all hope.

"Kind heaven!" he whispered. "My own dearest, don't you care what I've done? Are you taking me back out of the rotten, empty death I made for myself? Barry, you—"

"You've done nothing to me," she said against his speaking, her head nodding in a gentle negative: "except be all the things I want you to be—except make me love you." And her soft lips came back more closely.

Under his full, aspiring enchantment, brisk thoughts began to hurry about the means of preserving this miracle among its dark circumstances, to build up the sedulous patiences that must guard ecstasy forever now, against anything. He said carefully, unanxiously, "Barry, who knows where you are?"

Her head moved a little, and she said, "No one, my darling."

"You can stay hidden then—a little while—till I can get my discharge or sneak out of this d—n place, and we can get a boat for Japan, Australia, anywhere far away."

She made a quick exclamation, almost as of pity; both her hands came to his cheeks in a more precious cherishing of him; and as her head moved back, he saw tears come to the sudden wonder of her eyes.

"You would," she said in marveling softness. "You'd do that for me." There was reverence, an awed humility in her slow kiss. Then she raised her head again to watch his eyes, and she said, "I didn't kill him."

Before his new incredulity, she half straightened over him, one hand smoothing the hair back from his temple.

"No," she said in dreaming gentleness, "I didn't kill him. I didn't have to."

"Kerrigan!" said Hal with swift conviction, swift remorse at having forgotten him till now. "They haven't caught him," he stated slowly.

"No," she said. "And they won't. He's gone somewhere: he wouldn't tell me. I said good-by to him last night. I've got a letter for you from him."

He moved his fingers over her smooth brows, down the sure modeling of her cheek to the full, honorable lips. And all the time her tender eyes watched him as if he were the thing so difficult to believe in all this.

Inside Kerrigan's long fat envelope were his letter, four or five telegrams, and a folded document. Hal went first to the letter:

"Sport,

"Besides my ambition to kill a man in the cool of the blood (which is satisfied and cured, let me tell you), I've wanted to play god to people I loved. It isn't going to be so very godlike unless I get away with it. It was tough standing you in the corner so long. But the thing was no soap unless it embodied the latest aerodynamic principles. There wasn't much time to read up on those during our slight buggy ride of the other night; and I had a h—l of a time getting your girl's unconditioned promise to go straight to you—before the fireworks.

"The police get my confession today, as near a perfect example of the confessor's art as an old legal friend can make it. You're left out of everything entirely. They'll have to see Barry, I guess, but she knows her story (you'd be surprised how tough it is sometimes to whip the truth into plausibility). The thing may not be watertight, so I'll be watching in the bushes till it's over; and if anything blows up, I'll take care of it. You stay out of it. For Barry's sake, your father's, mine, anybody's. Do me that one holy favor, Hal. Don't go chivairous on us. It would wreck the works.

"Enclosed please find documents, which hide under some lonely cobblestone till everything's in the bag, then burn. Here are telegrams about who you are and aren't, and that incrimination the late Martin Crack got from Barry's father.

"Do this for me too, sport, will you? The first three days of the next month after it's all over, run a Personal in the Chicago Tribune, addressed 'Colonel,' saying you're married, what town you're living in, and whether your father's N. Y. bank is a good place to write you congratulations.

"Some day we'll hoist a couple more, and I'll tell the kids about Wyoming. Hasta la vista; and good luck, you lucky guy: but always be sure there's one old railroad man whe believes you rate it. K."

Hal looked up at Barry when he had finished. And quietly she explained: "He killed him, Hal, and then he went down to the street and stood there for an hour—to keep me from going in. It had taken me so long to—to find my courage."

Her head was up, the grace of its carriage unoppressed by anything that had happened or nearly happened, invulnerable to shame and fear and remorse because the bravery behind her eyes could not invite those things. The beauty of her face was so simply, so wonderfully arrived at: the white, straight nose; the faint indrawing of her smooth cheeks that seemed to make her untouched lips push a very little forward; the clear candor of her eyes that wanted to show him anything he should desire; the direct curve of eyebrows and the white forehead; the rich, parted flow of gold so simply ended in the thick upturnings at her neck. Whether it was more painfully beautiful to believe in the possession of her or to believe her a dream, Hal couldn't tell. He knew he would risk nothing of that beauty again—ever, in the smallest way. It might still be the boat for Australia. And in the meantime, in case the police—

"Barry," Hal said in the crispness of immediate necessity, "the first thing you've got to do—"

Her cool hand came against his mouth. "The first thing—" she said, her quiet voice near huskiness, her clear eyes untouched by his concern: "more important than any old unshaven thought of yours—" She bent over in quick, supple grace and whispered at his ear, "Hal, do you love me?"

Most of us are familiar with the fact that tropical countries usually have two seasons, wet and dry. But the Malay peninsula, where we find the Federated Malay states, has so much rain that the seasons are known as the wet season and wetter season.

Not Nine, but 50,000 Planets, Says Scientist

The solar system, of which the earth is a part, probably contains not 9 but 50,000 planets, it has been estimated by Prof. Armin O. Leuschner, of the University of California. In addition to the well known ones, Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus Neptune, and Pluto, a swarm of lesser objects have orbits around the sun, most of them in the region between Mars and Jupiter. Nearly 1,300 of the small bodies, or asteroids, have been located since the beginning of the last century, on the first night of which the Italian astronomer Guiseppe Piazzi sighted the first, Ceres.—Literary Digest.

WELL QUALIFIED

A bulky, bearded man came unannounced into the office of the gentle scholar who is headmaster of one of the best preparatory schools in Massachusetts. He lost no time in formalities, but announced, in a deep, terrifying voice, "I wish to teach in your school. I am a Rooshan, but I am interested in all literatures—Rooshan, and Spaneesh, and French, and Engleesh." He paused impressively and tapped the stupefied Head on the knee. "And," he added, "I can chin myself with one arm."—New Yorker.

ALL-RUBBER GLIDER

Soviet Russia claims an all-rubber glider, with all normal features of ordinary gliders, as its latest contribution to aviation. The framework is made of soft collapsible rubberized cloth tubes and the entire plane is covered with the same airtight material. It weighs only 45 pounds and must be blown up with air. When deflated it may be folded compactly into an ordinary suitcase and can easily be carried to a convenient elevation suitable for taking off.

PROGRAMS OF HI SCHOOL OPEN TO GENERAL PUBLIC

Although school is closed for Armistice Day on Monday, November 11, proper observances will be made on Tuesday at the first of two programs during Education Week. On Friday the Education Week program will honor the memory of Will Rogers.

The public speaking, music, and dramatics students will combine in presenting these programs, each of which will start at 1:15, in the auditorium. "His First Girl," the one-act play which the Dramatic Club is offering on Tuesday, represents the struggle of a fast growing boy to put his older sister and boy friend in their places, while he steps out with his first date. Meanwhile his mother puts him in a lofty but most embarassing position. Vera Flatt will take the part of Mrs. Powers, while Max Landuyt will be Dean Powers, and Jeanne Myers will be Eleanor Powers. Al Scott will be Chester, the somewhat conceited boy friend, and Irene Hutchings will be Marian, the girl of the triangle. Helen Bull is directing this performance.

On Friday "Keeping Kitty's Dates," a one-act play based on college life and mistaken identities, will be shown. The players, directed by Gardner Girdler, will be Patricia Murray as Kitty Brooks, the girl who mixes up her dates; and Bernice Bradford as Evelyn, Miriam Marin as Mimi, and Edith Shiffman as Flo, three girl friends who get themselves into picklements. Gardner Girdler as Stanley Wayne, a college boy; Charles Murray as Mr. Rowlands, the insurance agent, and Le Roy Walton as Mr. Fleming, a book agent, provide the complications, while June Michaelis will be the efficient maid.

The parents and friends of Jefferson High are cordially invited to attend on both of these occasions. Ten cents admission will be charged on Friday, the entire proceeds to go as Jefferson Union High School's offering to the Will Rogers Memorial Fund.

There will be music by the Glee Clubs on both programs.

JEFFERSON VICTORS IN SANTA CRUZ GAME

Jefferson's average per position in the line was 161 pounds, while Santa Cruz had an average of 167 pounds per position. In the backfield Jefferson had an average of 155 pounds per man and Santa Cruz 162 pounds per man. Even though the Santa Cruz team was heavier, our boys came through on top.

The first touchdown was made in the third play by Earl Bolster, and the second was made by Gene Lowenthal. In the last minutes of the game, Norbert Pfiefer made a spectacular run of 70 yards, but the ball was taken back because one of our men clipped from behind.

Rose was substituted for Lowenthal at the beginning of the third quarter and played the last half of the game. Stansbury and Van Pelt played during the second and third quarter. These were the only substitutions during the entire game.

The final score was 13 to 6.

SAY MAE WEST WROTE DARING NEW PRODUCT

"Common Flesh" Described As One of Most Daring Of Recent Plays

Declared by southern California critics to be the product of Mae West's sizzling typewriter, "Common Flesh" opens at the Columbia, Monday night after a sensational run of eleven weeks in the southland.

The drama is also declared by the critics to be the most unblushingly outspoken play ever to reach the stage in California. It tells the story of a hardened siren of the city who marries into a respectable New England home and causes endless havoc therein.

The star of the play, beautiful Mary Arden, a newcomer from the Broadway stage, proved as much a sensation in the south as did the vehicle. Miss Arden has been hailed as the dramatic discovery of the year. Her acting in the role of the beauteous home wreaker is declared to have stamped her as an emotional actress of unusual power.

The play's startling and stark frankness have caused critics to compare it to such famed works as "Desire Under the Elms" and "Dishonored Lady." Arthur Jatim and Bob Forteppo are credited officially as its authors, but southern columnists and critics have not beaten about the bush in hintnig that the real author is the "come up and see me" girl of the films. Their contentions are borne out by many of the lines and situations in the plays, which are unmistakably Westian.

Miss West is known to be as robust an authoress as an actress. Her early Broadway successes, which won her her place in the films, were all her own compositions.

Matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturday. Popular prices will prevail.

LESSON SERMON OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, November 10, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill? He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart" (Ps 15:1, 2). Other Bible citations will include: "There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it" (I Cor. 10: 13).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is well that the upper portions of the brain represent the higher moral sentiments, as if hope were ever prophesying thus: The human mind will sometime rise above all material and physical sense, exchanging it for spiritual perception, and exchanging human concepts for the divine consciousness" (p. 531).

ACME BEER CLUB DEFEATS DALY CITY TANFORAN

Sylvester Baffles Local Sluggers — Errors And Poor Umpiring Feature First League Defeat.

(By Al Gould)

The unexpected defeat of the Daly City Tanforan baseball team by the Acme Beer Club, Sunday afternoon, proved to be the prize upset in the Recreation AA Winter League.

While Sylvester, the Acme Beer chucker, completely baffled the local sluggers, the real deciding factor of the Acme Beer victory can be charged to Marty Drury, the officiating umpire on bases.

In the eighth inning, with Carrasco resting safely on third base with the tying run, Volkman sliced a slow grounder to Rossi, who in his haste to make the play at first threw wide and low, pulling Corbett from the sack. If ever a player was robbed of a base hit, or a team was cheated out of a well earned tally, it was on this occasion.

It is my firm conviction that a better brand of umpiring must be instituted by those officiating than that shown in this contest; that is, if the Umpires Association wishes to continue to have the co-operation of many of the managers with teams in this league.

For, as all fans realize an umpire, to a greater extent than any individual connected with the sport, can make or break a ball club, a player, manager, or, in fact, can ruin the spirit of fair play and sportsmanship, which is the dominating factor of the great national pastime.

The play by play:

FIRST INNING

Acme Beer — Baumann walked. Bonhage laid down a bunt, which went for an infield single through poor fielding. Perry sacrificed, Musante to Carrasco. Corbett walked, filling the bases. Villa fanned. Rossii popped a fly to short right, which Carrasco dropped, allowing Baumann and Bonhage to score, Corbett going to third and Rossi to second on the throw to the plate. Reilly fanned. One hit two runs, one error.

Daly Cityi—De Fillipo out, Sylvester to Corbett. Carrasco popped to Corbett. Vasquez flied to Villa. No hits, no runs, no errors.

SECOND INNING

Acme Beer—Pastorini out, Vasquez to Musante. Sylvester out, Musante unassisted. Baumann singled to right. Bonhage walked. Perry singled to center, scoring Baumann. Corbett popped to Vasquez. Two hits, one run no errors.

Daly City—Palmini beat out an infield hit. Volkman fanned. Petrocchi walked. Musante at bat; Pastorini threw wild to first to catch Petrocchi, the ball rolling to right field and both runners scoring. Musante fanned. Maloney out, Bonhage to Corbett. One hit, two runs, one error.

THIRD INNING

Daly City—Feiber out, Sylvester to Corbett. De Fillipo beat out a slow roller. Carrasco walked. Vasquez flied to Baumann in deep center, both runners advancing. Palmini out, Rossi to Corbett. One hit, no runs, no errors.

FOURTH INNING

Acme Beer—Sylvester singled to right and made a double out of it when Petrocchi lagged on the play. Baumann fanned. Bonhage singled to right and was out stretching it Carrasco to Vasquez. Perry at bat; Volkman nabbed Sylvester at third with his quick peg to Palmini. Two hits, no runs, no errors.

FIFTH INNING

Acme Beer—Perry safe on Palmini's error. Corbett at bat; Perry stole second. Corbett out, Carrasco to Musante. Villa fanned. Rossi flied to Petrocchi. No hits, no runs, no errors.

P.G. and E. REDUCES ELECTRIC RATES

New low rates will apply on electricity used in the home and for commercial lighting throughout P. G. & E. system. Over 690,000 customers will benefit by this saving of nearly $4,000,000 a year, beginning with January bills.

CHEAPER ELECTRICITY
Reduced electric rates mean just one thing—cheaper electricity. To each individual home in the P. G. and E. system and to all commercial lighting customers that means more comforts and conveniences from electricity at no additional cost.

APPLIES TO JANUARY BILLS
The reduced electric rates take effect automatically and apply on January bills to all domestic users and to all commercial lighting customers.

WHY this reduced electric rate?
This substantial saving to our customers of nearly $4,000,000 has been long under consideration and we have been planning carefully for it. We feel now we can justify it on the following four points of good business. These four points are:

1. Increased demand for electricity stimulated in part by the special inducement rate of the past year and in part by better business conditions.
2. Lowered financing costs brought about by reducing interest charges of a large part of the company's bonded debt with 4 per cent bonds.
3. Reduced management and operating costs which were lowered through the consolidation of several properties.
4. By economies put in effect in every department.

Take advantage of the new low electric rates. Do more electrically, now that all types of electric equipment for the home will cost less to use.

Electric Rates Cut again and again and AGAIN!

Electric rates have dropped steadily and consistently in the P. G. and E. system.

In 1928 . . . rates were reduced by $2,418,900 yearly.

Again in 1930 . . . rates dropped by $3,020,000 yearly.

Again in 1935 . . . an inducement rate is saving customers $1,600,000 in one year.

NOW AGAIN in 1935-36 reduced rates save $3,924,000 yearly. In only eight years accumulated rate reductions have amounted to $54,621,000.

Electricity IS cheaper in California, with P. G. & E. electric rates among the lowest in the country

Nature's Ice Box O. K.; Keeps Food 33 Years

Nature's ice box has even the best of mechanical refrigerators skinned when it comes to food preservation. Keeping food in good condition for years is no trick at all for natural cold storage plants such as the Antarctic wastes. According to Dr. Dana Coman, physician and dietician for the Lincoln Ellsworth-Sir Hubert Wilkins expedition, food left in a shack in the South Polar region 33 years ago was found to be still edible when discovered. The long-preserved food supplies were left by a Norwegian explorer, Otto Nordenskjold, in 1902.—Washington Post.

I FEEL FINE

Mothers read this:

A CONSTIPATED child is so easily straightened out, it's a pity more mothers don't know the remedy.

A liquid laxative is the answer, mothers. The answer to all your worries over constipation. A liquid can be measured. The dose can be exactly suited to any age or need. Just reduce the dose each time, until the bowels are moving of their own accord and need no help.

Doctors use liquid laxatives. Hospitals use the liquid form. If it is best for their use, it is best for home use. And today, there are fully a million families that will have no other kind in the house.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a doctor's prescription, now so widely known that you can get it all ready for use at any drugstore.

PIMIENTO AND PIMENTO

Pimiento (pronounced pim-yen-toe, accent on next to last syllable) is a Spanish sweet pepper that is used chiefly for stuffing olives, seasoning cheeses and in making salads. It is popularly, but erroneously, spelled "pimento." But pimento (pronounced as spelled, with next to last syllable accented) is allspice, the dried aromatic berries of a West Indian tree. The volatile oil of the pimento is used in cookery, in medical preparations and in perfumes.

The Man Who Knows

Whether the Remedy You are taking for Headaches, Neuralgia or Rheumatism Pains is SAFE is Your Doctor. Ask Him

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches; or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with Genuine Bayer Aspirin.

We say this because, before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin, most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of Bayer Aspirin largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken Bayer Aspirin year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: Genuine Bayer Aspirin is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains . . . and safe for the average person to take regularly.

You can get real Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by never asking for it by the name "aspirin" alone, but always saying BAYER ASPIRIN when you buy.

The Trouble

Now Science Explains Why So Many People Past 40

Feel That They're Slipping Losing Their "Grip" on Things

Many people 'round 40 think they're "growing old." They feel tired a lot . . . "weak." Have headaches, dizziness, stomach upsets.

Well, scientists say the cause of all this, in a great many cases, is simply an acid condition of the stomach. Nothing more.

All you have to do is to neutralize the excess stomach acidity.

When you have one of these acid stomach upsets, take Phillips' Milk of Magnesia after meals and before going to bed. That's all!

Try this. Soon you'll feel like another person! Take either the familiar liquid "PHILLIPS'" or the convenient new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM: Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at all drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.
